A few months later ...

Laura: So, how are things with Simon? Is he the perfect fiancé?

Anna: Well, nobody's perfect, but you know what? He's really great. First of all, he's really cheerful, you know, always happy and smiling. And he's very ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE. He wants to be a teacher and he does lots of studying in the evenings.

Laura: Does he have any time for you then?

Anna: Oh sure. He's a very ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE guy. He calls me every night and asks about my day.

Laura: Wow. Lucky you! Dave never asks about my day. He only thinks about himself. He's so ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE. Dave also thinks he's the best fiancé in the world, but he never buys me anything nice and he doesn't like paying for us when we go out. He's really ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE.

Anna: Poor you. Simon is exactly the opposite. He takes me to a restaurant sometimes and he pays for the food. And he often buys me flowers. He's very ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE. I'm really happy, you know.

Laura: Well, good for you. Unfortunately, I'm not. I'm unhappy; really ↓ DRAG ITEM HERE. I don't know what to do. Does Simon have a twin brother?
